INPECTAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] GUTTENBURG RACE TRACK, April 16. - Previous to the races to-day a trotting mates took place at the track for $100 a side. It was at three-fourths of a mile and was between trotters owned by Messrs. W. C. and Michael Daly. Father Bill's proverbial luck stuck to him and his horse won easily in 2.41%.

The fine card and pleasant weather attracted a large crowd to the track again to-day. The track was in perfect condition and fast time The sport began with a seven-furiong dash.

Lady Pulsifer was an odds on favorite, and Bill Lovell, her owner, backed her heavily all around the ring. The public seemed all at sea concerning the others, and not much speculation was induiged in. The favorite won, but Taral earned his money, for he was at work on her from start to finish. Pericles and The Sheriff finished second and third. Perlid was a great favorite for the secon Pevild was a great favorite for the second race and was heavily played, notwithstanding the fact that Sir George and Xenophon on their past records had a chance to win, Nevariheless, as remained favorite during the entire betting. Sir George was a strong second choice. Kenophon and Umpire Kelly were also well played.

The race showed poor judgment on the part of the jookeys, outside of Weber. He cutely took Xenophon to the front and opened up agap. Just as the others thought they were eatching him he let out another link and shot away like a stem engine. THE TURF.

A Sequel that Is Possible to the Byrnes Attack.

THE MARE RUBY REINSTATED

Interesting Piece of News Regarding Pimlico Track.

The hot shot which Inspector Byrnes poured nto the racing associations and racing people in general created consternation among horse-men yesterday. The general opinion was that though the Inspector was right in many things se was far too sweeping in his denunciation of orse owners. There are black sheep in every lock, it is admitted, but that is no reason why respectable and honest horsemen should be impagned and made to suffer for the faults of their less scrupulous brethren.

A well-informed turfman, whose words are listened to with respect by those who know a.m, said to the writer yesterday: "This whole business will wind up with the repeal of the Ives Pool bill, and then racing in the State of New York will be as effectually ended as it is in Jersey. And if this end does come, the racing associations, the horse owners, and the race-going public can thank two men for all this trouble.

"The Dwyers? Well, I won't mention any names, but you are pretty near the mark. Can you blame any one else for the death of racing in New Jersey? It was their attempt to equeste the pool-room keepers through the Western Union Telegraph Company that caused the city men to revolt. When they then relused to give pool-rooms information the latter turned and, led by De Lacey, closed up the race tracks in Jersey.

"The Dwyers got evidence against the poolrooms surough Pinkerton men, and this is the real cause of Inspector Byrnes's bitterness towards the prothers. They meddled with his affairs, and he never forgives any such inter-f-rence from any one. The Dwyers have asserted that they will refuse information to poo rooms at their Brooklyn meeting, and that they will use every means in their power to close

them during the May meeting
If they carry out this policy the pool room keepers will go to work to repeal the Ives law. They have the assurance of the highest legal suthorities that the Ives bill is unconstitupool room men have the best end of the argument. They have nothing to lose. The racetracks have everything to lose. The gain of with their losses."

The mare Ruby, which was ruled off by the
